

Austrian manufacturers of electrical distribution boxes

Overview

As an Austrian mechanical engineering company, we develop, produce, and distribute versatile machines.

Key Takeaways

Several Austrian companies manufacture electrical distribution boxes, including Steinbacher Energie, EPS Electric Power Systems GmbH, GIFAS-ELECTRIC GmbH, and Niedax. Key Manufacturers

Steinbacher Energie is one of Austria's oldest manufacturers of meter boxes and distribution cabinets, offering a wide range of products for energy distribution and civil engineering projects, with a focus on quality and sustainability. EPS Electric Power Systems GmbH specializes in electrical distribution solutions, including planning, installation, and maintenance of power distribution systems, as well as uninterruptible power supply (UPS) systems and room-in-room solutions for data centers. GIFAS-ELECTRIC GmbH provides a diverse range of electrical distribution products, such as solid rubber distributors, underfloor distributors, energy pillars, and floor sockets, catering to various industrial and municipal sectors. Niedax offers complete solutions for cable laying technology and power distribution, including copper busbars, brass neutral links, and other accessories for distribution boxes, serving both industrial and commercial applications.

Additional Suppliers

Other notable Austrian companies involved in electrical distribution include ELIN, which focuses on high and medium voltage systems, and Verbund, which operates Austria's largest electricity transport network through Austrian Power Grid AG (APG), supporting regional distribution. These companies provide both standard and customized solutions, ensuring reliable electrical infrastructure for residential, commercial, and industrial applications. Depending on your specific needs—such as voltage level, installation type, or environmental requirements—these manufacturers can offer tailored products and services.
