Key Takeaways

Distribution box processing in Malta involves manufacturing, customizing, and distributing corrugated and cardboard boxes through specialized local companies. Key Manufacturers and Suppliers

Multi Packaging Ltd is Malta's primary manufacturer of corrugated carton products, producing reels, boards, and boxes for a wide range of clients, including B2B and B2C sectors. They focus on high-quality production, innovation, and research and development to meet both local and international demands, servicing clients in southern Italy and North Africa as well . Cube Relocations Ltd provides packaging solutions across Malta, Gozo, and Comino. They offer standard, heavy-duty, and specialty boxes, as well as custom-sized cartons to protect fragile or valuable items. Their services include packing, moving, and collection of empty boxes, ensuring secure handling and compliance with shipping regulations . StoreX Malta offers an integrated solution for storage, packaging, distribution, and transportation. They cater to both domestic and business clients, providing local and overseas logistics support, which complements the distribution process for boxes and packaged goods . Polidano Press Ltd specializes in custom packaging design, printing, and die-cutting, allowing businesses to create branded boxes tailored to their products. This service is particularly useful for companies seeking visually appealing and functional packaging

Processing Workflow

- Design and Customization: Boxes can be designed to specific dimensions, strength, and branding requirements. Companies like Polidano Press Ltd and Cube Relocations Ltd provide tailored solutions.
- Manufacturing: Corrugated cardboard is processed into reels, boards, and boxes. Multi Packaging Ltd handles large-scale production with advanced machinery and quality control.
- Packing and Protection: Items are packed into standard or custom boxes, with additional protective materials like bubble wrap for fragile goods.
- Distribution and Logistics: Boxes are distributed locally or internationally, with companies like StoreX and Cube Relocations managing storage, transport, and compliance with shipping standards.

Applications

Distribution boxes in Malta are used for industrial shipping, retail packaging, moving services, and storage solutions. Businesses benefit from custom designs for branding, while individuals can access durable boxes for relocation or storage purposes. Overall, Malta's distribution box processing ecosystem combines manufacturing expertise, customization, and logistics services, ensuring that both businesses and consumers have access to high-quality packaging solutions.
