Key Takeaways

Huijue multimode fiber optic cables typically range from $0.50 to $1.50 per foot for the cable alone, with total installed costs varying based on length, connectors, and installation complexity. Estimated Pricing

Huijue offers a variety of multimode fiber optic cables, including LC, SC, and ST connector types, as well as patch cords and pre-terminated assemblies. While exact prices are not publicly listed, general market data for multimode fiber optic cables can provide guidance:

- Short indoor runs (e.g., 500–1,000 ft OM3/OM4 multimode): Cable cost around $0.50–$0.60 per foot; total materials $250–$600.
- Medium office installations with conduit and multiple terminations (e.g., 2,000 ft OM4 multimode): Cable cost approximately $0.60 per foot; total cable $1,200; labor $1,800–$3,300; total project $3,000–$5,000.

- Long outdoor or complex installations: Costs increase due to trenching, protective ducting, and splicing; cable $0.90 per foot or more; total project $11,000-$22,000 depending on labor and permits .

Factors Affecting Price

- Fiber Type: OM3 and OM4 multimode fibers are common; OM4 supports higher bandwidth and longer distances, slightly increasing cost.
- Connectors and Terminations: Pre-terminated cables with LC, SC, or ST connectors are more expensive than bulk cable.
- Cable Jacket: LSZH (low-smoke zero-halogen) or waterproof jackets add to the price .
- Installation Complexity: Conduited runs, multiple terminations, and outdoor routing increase labor costs.
- Project Location: Urban areas may have higher labor and permitting costs; rural areas may have higher logistics costs .

How to Obtain Exact Huijue Prices

For precise pricing, it is recommended to:

- Visit the Huijue product catalog online and request a quote for specific cable types and lengths .
- Contact Shanghai Huijue Network Communication Equipment Co., Ltd. directly for factory-direct pricing, bulk discounts, and shipping options.
