Key Takeaways

Project Quotation CFP840G can be managed as a structured estimate of project costs and services, including tasks, resources, and pricing, which can later be converted into a binding project agreement once approved. Overview of Project Quotations

A project quotation is a non-binding estimate that outlines the services, items, and costs associated with a project. It typically includes:

- Quoted items and services with descriptions and quantities
 - Basic contact information for the customer and project team
 - Special trade agreements, discounts, and taxes
 - Estimated timing, duration, and required skills for tasks
 - Hierarchy of activities and subtasks to structure the project workflow
- Project quotations serve as the first step in the project phase, allowing you to monitor, review, and control the pipeline of potential projects and orders .

Creating a Project Quotation

In systems like SAP Project System, quotations can be generated using Easy Cost Planning against WBS (Work Breakdown Structure) elements and Network Activities:

- DP82 Sale Pricing considers planned costs at the WBS level by default, ignoring network activity costs.
 - To include network activities, you must activate planning for network activities in the Implementation Guide (SPRO) and assign the DIP profile to the project profile or definition control tab .
 - After implementation, the system calculates sales pricing considering both WBS and network activity costs, which can then be used to generate the quotation . In Microsoft Dynamics 365 Project Operations, you can:
 - Enter services, tasks, and subtasks with timing and required skills
 - Include pricing, discounts, and taxes
 - Copy quotation details to a project or project forecast once approved, converting the estimate into a binding agreement
- Workflow and Approval

Some organizations, like USSI, configure auto-approval workflows for project quotations. This ensures that once a quotation meets predefined criteria, it is automatically approved, and the workflow history can be tracked for compliance .

Templates and Best Practices

For structured RFQs or quotations, you can use downloadable templates that include sections for requirements, supplier information, pricing tables, and evaluation criteria. These templates help standardize the process and ensure all necessary information is captured .

Key Takeaways

- Project quotations are initial estimates that can become binding once approved.
- Proper cost planning at WBS and network activity levels ensures accurate pricing.
- Workflow automation can streamline approvals and tracking.
- Using templates improves consistency and reduces errors in quotation preparation. By following these practices, Project Quotation CFP840G can be effectively managed, ensuring accurate cost estimation, clear task definition, and smooth transition to project execution.
